

3rd grade summer to do:

Here is a list of things you can be doing over the summer to ensure you are ready for 3rd grade!

- Know your addition/subtraction facts well. These need to be known fluently as most of third grade will be all about multiplication/division. Daily practice and flashcards are
- Begin your multiplication facts, if ready. A head start is always good, as this is a huge part of third grade! A good way to start is with skip-counting up to multiples of 10.
- Write in print well. Third-graders will begin to learn cursive. Practice nice, neat handwriting.
- Write good, detailed sentences/paragraphs. A journal or a vacation log would be good. Write in complete sentences and paragraphs that include 5 sentences.
- Read! Read! Read!
